

WINTER NEWSLETTER 2011

Moscato is here!

We are thrilled to release our 330ml Moscato. This is the first of the 2011 vintage to hit cellar door and it's receiving rave reviews from all who have tried it.

Packaged in a handy 330ml bottle it's perfect for on the go, or to keep on hand in the fridge. With two glasses per bottle you can be assured of freshness and spritz without having half bottles open. It's low alcohol at 6% too.

Made from Orange Muscat it has a lovely bouquet and is sweet, but not too sweet. Perfect as an aperitif, or enjoy with desserts and cheese. It's also great on ice.

Enjoy lunch at cellar door

Winter is a great time to visit Amulet for lunch. The glass walled cellar door is the perfect spot to take in the scenic views while enjoying some of our best regional produce, gourmet pies, tasty quiches and delicious puddings. The wood fire in the tasting area ensures that everyone stays cosy whilst enjoying some of the great wines and cider on offer.

Lunch is available on weekends and throughout the week with 24 hours notice. Bookings are advised so call us on 03 5727 0420.

Visitors will be able to take home some of the delicious products used in our local produce platters from July. A range of items will be available for purchase to enjoy from cellar door. Pesto, olives, dips, pickles and jams head up the list. They're perfect to take on a picnic or why not arrange for a produce hamper to be delivered to your door with your favourite wine. Just give us a call and we can arrange everything.

Highland Games Call For Arms

The countdown has begun to the 2011 Highland Games, and this year we have sent out a call for arms..... a coat of arms!

Enter the competition to design a coat of arms and win a war chest of wine and cider from Amulet. We have a few mandatory items to be included in the coat of arms, however we have tried to keep the guidelines to a minimum so that the designers can let their creative juices run wild. Email us for more information about the competition, we look forward to receiving your entries.

This year also sees some new additions to the program. The Glen Lachlan Estate College of Arms will appear to display their Celtic sword fighting skills complete with Kevlar weave kilts and body armour.

The Victoria Police Blue Ribbon

Foundation will also be in attendance with Constable T. Bear.

The massed pipe band display will be the biggest yet, with four pipe bands participating on the day. The sounds of bagpipes echoing around the hills is certainly something special to experience.

Let's not forget the amazing feats of strength that the strong men display through traditional highland games. Last year saw the breaking of the national Binks stone carry record and the strong men are psyching themselves for another great day of competition.

There is plenty to keep the kids entertained with sack races and other activities planned just for them.

With plenty of great regionally produced, hearty food on offer and no shortage of beverages another great day is assured. We look forward to seeing you at Amulet on Sunday the 21 August.
